

Home Sharing Program Staff person

Company: Ottawa-Carleton Lifeskills Inc.

Starting Salary: $42,926.00 CAD / Per Year

Job Description

Do you enjoy working with adults who have a developmental disability? Consider this opportunity for a lifestyle change!

Ottawa-Carleton Lifeskills is seeking qualified persons who wish to share their homes and families with persons who have a developmental disability.

Home sharing is more than just room and board and professional support - we want you to make the persons you support feel like family members. This highly successful program provides high-quality care and superb quality of life to persons needing support.

The screening process includes interviews, criminal reference checks, personal and professional references, and a Home Study to assess your physical premises (as required by MCSS) and gives us an opportunity to meet your family. Home share staff must have a valid driver's license and a safe vehicle.

We have successful home shares in single-family homes, town houses, apartments and condos. We have home share staff with and without spouses, children and/or pets. Individuals served (two) must each have a private bedroom. Home share staff must provide ongoing assurance that no one is permitted to smoke in their home.

As an employee of OCL, you will have an orientation, ongoing training, supervision and support, salary and benefits, compensation for a portion of your household expenses, and the means to purchase respite care.

Qualifications:

- Diploma or Degree in Developmental Services, Social Work or equivalent is an asset
- Experience serving persons with developmental disabilities
- Effective documentation, communication and organizational skills
- Ability to make a long term commitment
- Current First Aid and CPR
